

Winds of Change: Where are Turkey-Israel Relations Headed?

For the first time in 15 years, the President of the State of Israel will make an official visit to Turkey. The announcement of this visit comes after four phone conversations between Turkish President Recep Tayyip Erdoğan and Israeli President Isaac Herzog. What explains the timing of the visit? What are the considerations of each country, and what are the implications of this event? Join us for a virtual event that will analyze the relations between Israel and Turkey, which now are ripe for President Herzog's trip to Turkey.

Shutterstock, www.kremlin.ru, Israeli President's Spokesperson Unit

Wednesday
March 9, 2022

16:00-17:30 IL time

Livestream |
on social media

The event will be held in English

16:00-17:00 | Session I | Diplomatic and Political Issues

Moderator

Amb. Mark Regev
Senior Visiting Fellow, INSS

Conversation with

Prof. Umut Uzer
Associate Professor, Istanbul
Technical University

Dr. Hürcan Aslı Aksoy
Deputy Head of Centre for Applied Turkish Studies, SWP

Dr. Selin Nasi
London Representative of the Ankara Policy Center

Mr. Rémi Daniel
Neubauer Research
Associate, INSS

17:00-17:30 | Session II | Economic and Energy Dimensions

Moderator

Dr. Gallia Lindenstrauss
Senior Research Fellow, INSS

Conversation with

Amb. Dr. Oded Eran
Senior Research Fellow, INSS

Mr. Güven Sak
Program Director, Economic Policy Research Foundation of Turkey (TEPAV)