

Hamas still walking on eggshells

July 1, 2014

In the wake of the discovery of the bodies of the three yeshiva students who went missing on June 12, Israel has carried out a massive offensive against Hamas, whom it accuses of masterminding their kidnapping. It also insists that Palestinian President Mahmoud Abbas annul the unity government with the Islamist organization.

- Benedetta Berti, research fellow at Tel Aviv University's Institute for National Security Studies, says that as long as no clear-cut proof of Hamas' involvement in the kidnapping is brought forward, both Israel's and Abbas' attitude towards it will remain ambivalent.

This is segment. Listen to the full episode of So Much to Say here.

<http://tlv1.fm/news/so-much-to-say/2014/07/01/hamas-still-walking-on-eggshells/>