Analyst: Iran 'pushing the envelope on nuclear deal', while Obama administration acts as regime's lawyers

by WorldTribune Staff, September 6, 2016

The Obama administration is not only letting Iran "push the envelope" but appears to be acting as the Islamic Republic's "lawyers" when it comes to enforcement of last summer's nuclear deal, an Israeli analyst said.

"Iran is continuing to push the envelope, trying to get as much as it can, even within the confines of this deal," Dr. Emily Landau, head of the Arms Control Program at the Tel Aviv-based Institute for National Security Studies, told The Jerusalem Post on Sept. 5.

While the U.S. continues to insist that Iran is in compliance of its side of the deal, "Israel can't be satisfied with that," Landau said, due to a host of "worrying dynamics and other issues" that Washington is ignoring, as well as the fact that "the JCPOA is tremendously flawed."
